

KS1 English Quiz - Comprehension - Aliens Stole My Homework (Summer of Year 2) (Questions)

Aliens Stole My Homework is one quiz in our Comprehension series. This quiz is for Year 2 students during the summer term or for KS1 pupils that have just begun Year 3.

A paragraph of writing will be shown at the top of the page and they are to answer questions on what they have read.

This will enhance their comprehension and literacy skills as suggested in the National Curriculum. Comprehension is a key subject in English.

Below is a short story about my friend Bob. Read it and see if you can answer questions on it.

Bob had been working hard all weekend. He had stayed up until nine o'clock working out how to add three digit numbers. He even learnt all his spellings and was actually looking forward to the test on Monday morning. He placed all his homework on the kitchen table and went to bed. On Sunday, he finished his Geography homework and put that on the table too.

In the night, he woke to a bright light beaming through his window. He peered out and saw a small, green spaceship land in his front garden. He put on his dressing gown and walked downstairs and into the garden.

"We come in peace," said a voice from within the spaceship.

Bob was scared.

"Our planet is in mortal danger and only one thing can save us!" said the voice.

Suddenly a door slid open and revealed a small green alien. "We need your homework or our planet will explode!"

Bob did what any good boy would do – he handed over his homework and saved the planet!

The end.

KS1 English Quiz - Comprehension - Aliens Stole My Homework (Summer of Year 2) (Answers)

1. On which day did he do his Geography homework?

- Friday
- Saturday
- Sunday
- Monday

Geography is a lesson about the world, maps, and features of our planet.

2. What was Bob looking forward to?

- Seeing the aliens.
- Doing his Geography homework.
- His spelling test.
- Telling his teacher what had happened.

He was looking forward to the test on Monday.

3. What woke Bob up?

- The sound of the spaceship.
- The voice of the alien.
- The toilet flushing.
- A bright light beaming through his window.

If Bob had curtains, this wouldn't have happened. We can assume or infer, that Bob either doesn't have curtains or didn't pull them closed properly.

4. What is the first thing the alien says to Bob?

- "We need your homework."
- "We come in peace."
- "Our planet will explode."
- "Do you know where the shops are?"

The film ET stands for Extra Terrestrial and was written by Steven Spielberg.

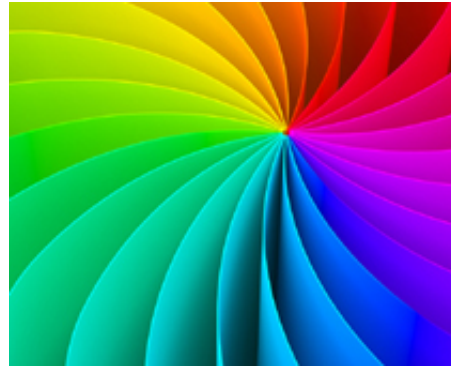

5. What does Bob do first when he sees the light through his window?

- He goes downstairs.
- He puts on his dressing gown.
- He goes back to sleep.
- He peers out of the window.

This alien comes from Mars, which is known as the Red Planet.

6. What colour is the alien?

- Brown
- Green
- Blue
- Yellow

ET, from the film, isn't a boy or a girl! He is both and neither!

7. Where did Bob keep his homework?

- In his school bag.
- On the kitchen table.
- In the garden.
- By his bed.

Mars has the tallest mountain out of all the planets, including Earth.

8. Why do the aliens need Bob's homework?

- To save their planet.
- To build a new spaceship.
- To read and learn from.
- To use as toilet paper!

We don't learn the actual reason why they want the homework, we just know they do!

9. Why would Bob feel a little upset about the situation?

- Because nobody will believe he saw aliens.
- Because their planet might explode.
- Because he had worked hard all weekend and now he has nothing to show for it.
- Because he was scared and that made him feel very sad.

The story suggests he spent a long time doing his homework and now he hasn't got any left to show his teacher. We think he is probably sad and feels sorry for the aliens but their planet has been saved and so, Bob won't feel sad anymore.

10. How do you think the aliens feel when Bob hands them the homework?

- Sad
- Depressed
- Relieved
- Scared

We don't know this as a fact but we can make a good guess that they would be feeling very relieved and happy that their planet can now be saved.
